The VertaLoc[®] Dynamic Knee Brace is designed to stabilize and control mild to moderate levels of medial lateral movement. Its adjustable hinges allow for effortless and customizable preferred range of motion. This adjustable hinge permits physician or practitioner to set limits on flexion and extension, while enabling patient free range of motion of their knee within those guidelines. The Dynamic knee brace includes sixteen metal stops and an allen key to adjust the range of motion on both hinges and gives maximum control, adjustability and customization.

Indications:
