Etac Rex toilet arm support

Secure environment around the toilet

 etac®

Etac Rex toilet arm support

For a modern and stylish impression

Suitable for all bathrooms

Etac Rex is a stable and safe arm support that gives you safety close to the toilet. The clever design ensures that the arm supports take up very little room when folded up. They are close to the wall and do not get in the way. Furthermore, thanks to their angled shape, it is always easy to reach and grip onto them. They are also designed to guarantee a gentle and smooth folding down process. Etac Rex is made of highly qualitative material in order to give a stable grip and a safe support when you need it the most.

Support designed for you

Rex is available in three different lengths and in variants with or without supporting legs. Choose a model that suits you, your bathroom and your requirements. The supporting legs increase the maximum user weight to 150 kg.

The arm supports can easily be fitted onto the wall and blends well into your bathroom environment.
