Vulcan Pro Tech brings you the revolutionary new VTECH Headgear. After years of laboratory testing, research & development we have successfully redefined the meaning of protection. The first of its kind to pass the American Society for Testing and Materials standards for individuals participating in sports, recreation, and other leisure activities in which protective headgear is worn. No other protective headgear in either the combat sports or medical market has yet to pass these strict standards of protection. Equipped with Anti Concussion technology, 3d scanned ergonomic fit and unparalleled comfort there truly is no equal.
